Community Profile

Prepared by the ARIZONA DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Marana combines a pleasant rural community with a bustling commercial expanse. It is the main trade center and community focus for a vast rural area covering approximately 500 square miles. Prime farmland for centuries, Marana has also been a transportation center for farming and ranching. Located where Brawley Wash joins the Santa Cruz River, Indians used the dependable water supply to grow corn, beans, squash and cotton. The Spanish came about 1700 and started the first cattle ranches. "Modern" Marana began in 1881 with the railroad. The area was overgrown with dense mesquite thickets and Marana's name derives from the Spanish word maraña, meaning "impassable tangle" or "jungle."

PRINCIPAL ECONOMIC ACTIVITIES

Although agriculture remains a major force in Marana's economy, a recent influx of residential & commercial development has occurred due to its location between Phoenix & Tucson along I-10 & Union Pacific Railroad, a business-friendly government & no property taxes. To the south, adjacent to Tucson, is a new commercial business district. Continental Ranch Industrial Park has several new tenants and new industrial properties are available at Marana Northwest Regional Airport.
